INDEX

Note: Article titles are in bold type, book titles in italic type and authors' names (articles and books) in CAPITALS. Book reviews are indexed under author and subject, but not title. Alphabetical arrangement is word by word. Abbreviations (eg ANC) are arranged at the beginning of each letter sequence, while acronyms (eg ASEAN) are treated as ordinary words (in this index CHOGM is regarded as an acronym). Because the editorials in the April, July and October issues have been separately numbered in roman numerals, references to these include the month in parentheses.

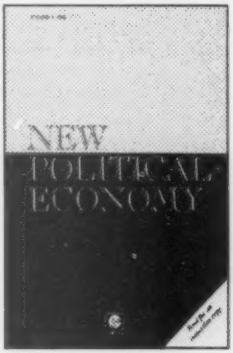
New Political Economy



EDITORS
Andrew Gamble, Ankie Hoogvelt and
Anthony Payne, University of Sheffield, UK

Supported by an International Advisory Board.

Alexis de Tocqueville once declared that a new science was needed for a new world. The reason for the launch of this major new international journal is the belief that a new stage in the development of the world economic and political system has commenced, a new world order. Understanding it will require new modes of analysis and new theories, and a readiness to tear down intellectual barriers, bringing together many approaches, methods, and disciplines which for too long have been separated. In short, what is needed is a new political economy, which combines the breadth of vision which characterised the classical political economy of the nineteenth century with the analytical advances of twentieth century social science. The aim of New Political Economy is to create a forum for work which seeks to bridge past empirical and conceptual divides. The emphasis will be upon exploratory and innovative work which draws on different disciplines and which addresses core issues in the emerging research agenda.

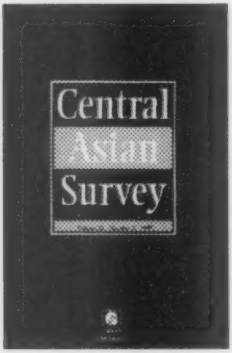
Central Asian Survey



EDITOR
Marie Bennigsen Broxup

Supported by an International Editorial Board

Central Asian Survey is the only established journal in the world concerned primarily with the history, politics, cultures, religions and economics of the Central Asian and Caucasian regions. These include those territories and predominantly Muslim Irano-Turkic populations from western China to western Anatolia sharing a common historical, ethnic, cultural and linguistic heritage and in some cases communist experience. Foremost among these are the republics of former Soviet Central Asia, Azerbaijan, Crimea, and the Muslim Ibero-Caucasian and Turkic peoples of the North Caucasus, Middle Volga and Urals whose territories are included in the Russian Federation. Covered as well are Chinese Xinjiang, Afghanistan, Iran, Turkey, Armenia and Georgia. The recent unfolding of political, demographic, economic and military events which have precipitated new strategic linkages, raise the spectre of important local and regional change and make Central Asia and the Caucasus an area of significant contemporary interest. The journal includes a section on Mongolia and adjacent regions. There are deep historical connections between Mongolia and Central Asia and Mongolia's experience of analogous economic and political changes are relevant to readers of Central Asian Survey.
